CONCEALING AFFIXING AND CANCELLING STAMPS.—The following is a copy of a circular issued by C. Delano, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, April 23, 1869:

"In all cases where an adhesive stamp shall hereafter be used, except as may be otherwise provided, the person using or affixing the same to the instrument, matter or thing to be taxed, shall so affix the stamp or stamps denoting the tax, that the entire surface of each stamp so affixed shall be exposed to view, and shall cancel the same by writing or imprinting in a legible manner, with ink, upon each stamp so used, the initials of his name and the date upon which the same shall be affixed, or by such mechanical means as the Commissioner may hereafter prescribe and require, in order that such canceled stamp or stamps cannot again be used.

So much of the above order as applies to the cancellation of the entire surface of each stamp used will apply to all of the stamps prescribed by or under the internal revenue laws, but the cancellation of stamps for spirits and tobacco and proprietary stamps from private dies will remain as heretofore prescribed by law or regulations.

The attention of all internal revenue officers, and the public generally, is called to the provisions of section 2 of the act of April 10, 1869, which provides "That section one hundred and fifty-five of the act entitled 'an act to provide internal revenue to support the Government, to pay the debt on the public debt, and for other purposes,' approved June thirteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, as amended by the ninth section of the act of July third, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, be further amended by adding thereto the following: And the fact that any such stamp so bought, sold, offered for sale, used, or had in possession as aforesaid, has been washed or restored by removing or altering the canceling or disfiguring marks thereon, shall be prima facie evidence that such stamp has been once used and removed by the person thereof from some vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing charged with taxes imposed by law, in violation of the provisions of this section."

The punishment imposed by the above amended section, is a "fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both at the discretion of the court."

FROM THE DALLES.—We clip the subjoined items from the Mountaineer of yesterday:

On Friday the thermometer was in the neighborhood of 81000, and was conceded by everybody to have been the hottest day of the season.

Rev. Mr. Anderson, of Portland, will preach in the Congregational church in this city, on next Sunday morning, after which a Baptist church will be organized in the vestry.

We learn that the O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Idaho will soon be hauled out on the beach for the purpose of having the lower portion of her hull rebuilt and for a number of other repairs.

We are informed that the Wasco Woolen Mill Co. have partially suspended operations on account of the scarcity of water in Mill Creek. They have sent a party of men to complete the ditch commenced some time since, bringing the water from Hood river, which will be finished in about ten days, when the supply of water will be inexhaustible.

The dead body of a man, supposed to be H. F. Mitchell, a German, was found on Monday last floating in the river nearly opposite E. P. Fitzgerald's store. An inquest was held by Squire Campbell, and the conclusion arrived at by the jury was, that the man had most probably committed suicide, as he had been partially insane for a long time. The deceased leaves a wife and family of children in Canyon Creek valley, Oregon.

At a meeting held June 14th, the following officers were elected for the Agricultural Society of Wasco Co., for the ensuing year: President, H. N. Gates; Vice President, J. M. Bird; Secretary, N. R. Packard; Treasurer, George W. Waldron; Executive Committee, Robt. Mays, Jones Whitney, Harrison Corum, James Force, Mr. Fisk, Kilkatel, John Irvine, T. M. Ward and P. T. Wallace. A motion prevailed setting the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th of September, for holding the next fair.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—From the Advocate we get the following: The first Indian Campmeeting ever held on this coast commenced on Thursday last, near Fort Simcoe, W. T., under the Superintendency of Rev. J. H. Wilbur. Indians from the Warm Springs, Oregon, and many other points were preparing to attend.

Rev. A. F. Waller Joseph Waldo, and Abijah Carey of Salem passed through this city last Saturday, on their way to attend the great Indian campmeeting at Yakima.

A campmeeting for the Dalles charge will commence on Fifteen Mile creek the 29th of July, and continue over the ensuing Sabbath.

The brethren of the Albany charge, have concluded to unite with the Lebanon charge in a campmeeting the 26th of June.

The monthly union meeting of the churches will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath evening next. Sermon by the Rev. A. L. Lindsley. Subject: Influence of cities, and means of directing it to the best ends.

The vote in the Portland M. E. Church, on Friday last, was very light. For lay delegation, 36; against, 8. This is less than one-fourth of the membership.

The receipts at the Festival given for the benefit of the A. M. E. Zion Church were $208; expenses, $112; balance left, $96.

OREGON SHOULD DO LIKEWISE.—We have received a copy of the Southern Iowa Land and Railroad Gazette, published at Burlington, Iowa, and devoted to advertising the advantages which the State offers to immigrants. It has, first, a map showing all the railroad lines of Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and a part of Ohio. Iowa is subdivided into counties. Then follows an article on Iowa, in general; an article on Southern Iowa; Common Schools of Iowa; Live Stock in Iowa; Railroads in Iowa; and then several articles descriptive of particular counties, showing how they are situated with relation to rivers, roads and railroads; how far from their natural and best markets; their timber and prairie lands; nature of soil; to what crops best adapted, mineral productions, if any; towns, villages, mills, manufactories; values of everything, etc., etc. These articles afford the reader answers to almost every question which a person contemplating emigration would be likely to ask, and constitute an excellent advertisement of the advantages offered by the State. The person who sent us the copy gives this advice, written on the margin: "Let Oregon do likewise, and send such sheets to every county clerk in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, for distribution." The advice is good and should be taken.

ANNUAL REPORT.—The first annual report of the Young Men's Christian Association of Portland, has just been published by Himes & Daly, and a copy of it has been laid upon our table. The officers of the Association are: Ed. W. Quackenbush, President; W. H. Watkins, Vice President; James Steel, Treasurer and Librarian; Fred K. Arnold, Corresponding Secretary; Frank. S. Aiken, Recording Secretary.

The following are the Board of Managers: First Baptist Church, J. M. Dolph and W. Lair Hill. First Congregational Church, James Steel and Fred K. Arnold; Episcopal Church, R. Weeks and L. W. Wallace; Lutheran Church, Gustaf Wilson and Wm Rothlefsen; First Methodist Episcopal Church, F. S. Aiken and W. H. Watkins; First Presbyterian Church, R. K. Warren and Ed. W. Quackenbush.

Messrs. J. T. Whiting, W. T. Shanahan, L. M. Parrish, H. C. Clement and Geo. J. Ainsworth constitute the Visiting Committee. The active members number forty-one. The association was incorporated May 11, 1868. The regular meetings are held on the second Monday evening of each month. The rooms, with library, are in Ladd & Tilton's bank building, up stairs.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—The Enterprise of yesterday furnishes the following:

The city council has levied a tax of 9 mills on the dollar for this year.

Capt. Baughman returned home from White Pine about two weeks ago. He is now looking about Puget Sound

The sum of $600 has been appropriated from the road fund, for the improvement of the route leading up the bluff, at this city, from the head of Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs Bates will probably appear in this city at Washington Hall, on Thursday evening next. The programme will consist of recitations from Shakespeare, in costume, with a select afterpiece

W. H. Vaughn, father of the boy Frank Vaughn, who was admitted to bail in the sum of $8,000 for his appearance to answer for the killing of A. D. Larkins, has also been held to appear at the next term of the Circuit Court to answer to the charge of assault upon Supervisor Harrison Wright, with a dangerous weapon, or intent to kill, we are not positive which.

STEAMBOAT MATTERS.—After her trip to-day, the steamer Active will be laid up to receive her new machinery, and will probably be out of service about a month. Meantime, the John H Couch will be used upon the route between Portland and Vancouver.

The Oriental has been for some days laid up for some repairs, the Julia taking her place.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY.—For the last few weeks there has been a vast deal of agricultural machinery shipped up the Willamet river, to all points in the valley—an excellent indication of prosperity and expanding enterprise among the farmers.

CIRCUIT COURT—CIVIL JURY.—The following were the proceedings of yesterday

State of Oregon vs Audrey Derrigen; arraigned; R. E. Bybee appointed for defence, and defendant allowed until Saturday to plead

State of Oregon vs Theo Forrest, defendant arraigned; motion to quash indictment overruled; defendant allowed until Saturday morning to plead

O. P. Mason vs J. J. Meagher; motion to strike answer from files, and defendant allowed to file amended answer

Thomas Smith vs E. G. Randall dismissed with costs against plaintiff

Thomas Cully vs Benjamin Tyrrally, confirmation of sale of block 104, to Thomas Cully, for $1,200 in gold coin

All jurors in attendance were excused until Tuesday morning next

M. Shukowitz vs Myers & Clement, verdict of $1 070 in currency for plaintiff

SHIPPING BOUND FOR THE COLUMBIA.—The S. F. Times, from which we clipped the item concerning the Hattie C. Besse being engaged for a cargo of lumber from Puget Sound, was in error. The Besse sailed for the Columbia river on the 4th inst, and will, upon arrival, load with lumber at Oak Point. The barks Whistler and Fidelite sailed for Columbia river same day

A Bashful Bride on Her Wedding Tour.

Correspondence of the Boston Traveler.

While we were making arrangements to pass the night (we cannot say sleep) in the sleeping car which carried us from Macon to Montgomery, Alabama, and just as we had begun to wish for a better bed, the cars stopped at a small station, and a blushing couple, "hold of hands," came into the car. Their appearance, as they stood hesitatingly in the doorway, showed that they meant "mischief," and were just starting out on the wedding tour.

"Would you like a berth, sir?" said the lively, jolly-faced conductor of the miserable sleeping car. "No, sir. I reckon as may be—that aint what we want," stammered the bridegroom. "Haunt you got no bridal chamber on this ere kear?"

"Oh, the bridal chamber!" exclaimed the conductor. "Come this way, sir."

The couple went tremblingly through the car to the "state room," which looked about as much like a state room on a Northern sleeping car as a cell in the county jail appears like the Parker House parlor.

"Does that door shut up?" anxiously inquired the bridegroom.

"Oh, yes. See how it slides," said the conductor.

"But I'm dogged if I see any place to sleep," suggested the applicant for the chamber.

"Oh, we'll fix that, if you will be seated," said the conductor, pointing to a low, hard sofa on the opposite side of the car, close to the head of our curtained couch.

"I don't like it; so there——," whispered the bride.

"Don't like what?", said her partner.

"I won't go no further, I won't, if you keep talking so."

"What have I done, I'd like ter know?"

"You told him you didn't see no place to sleep, and I don't think it was usin' me right."

"Well, I don't see no place no how, neither. If we've got to be tucked away in that little hole, we'll haft ter stan' up all night, that's sartin."

"Let's go back, Johnny; I'm afraid to go any further."

"Oh, no, don't let's go back. Let's stick her out."

"I can't, I won't, I don't like her. I can't stay here. Theer lots of men behind those curtains. I'm sick. I won't go no further. Say Johnny, let's do go home. Do, I want ter so much." And the fair one began to weep as thought her heart would break.

"Well, don't cry, Mollie, we'll get right out at the next place. But you hadn't orter be so 'fraid o' folks, now we're married."

This seemed to quiet her grief, and at the next station the afflicted couple left the cars, having paid for the "state room," and we heard him, as he stood on the platform outside, remark that:

"That ar sleepin' kear was dog-goned small quarters for married folks."

A Scientific Somersault.

The geologists are a little bewildered by some of their own more recent discoveries. Until within a year past, they had it pretty well settled that the earth was a ball of molten matter, with a solid crust of uncertain thickness. Of this crust, the inner and by far the larger portion was supposed to be of igneous formation, and hence the granite of which it seems mainly to be composed, has been classified as a "plutonic" rock. Upon this inner rind of granite, estimated as of about one hundred miles in thickness, a thin outer rind, not over a mile thick, of stratified rock, is superimposed. This is plainly of aqueous origin. The geological theory built on the basis of these distinctions, as every school boy knows, is that millions of years years ago the earth was a fluid mass entirely, that in the course of ages the gradual cooling process spread a solid crust over it, which has been continually thickening, and that finally the condensation of aqueous vapors introduced water as an agent on the scene, by the action of which most of the subsequent surface changes have been produced.

Of late years many eminent scientists have doubted this theory and raised some very strong objections to it, but it was still generally received until very recently some young geologists have proved experimentally that granite is not of igneous origin at all, but has been formed like the stratified rocks by the action of water. They have shown that the elements of which granite is composed would have solidified from a molten state, not into granite, but into glass or something like it, and they have taken those same elements and actually made granite from them by the action of water. This discovery is a startling one. It must entirely upset and reverse the scientific cosmogonies of the day, and necessitate new ones. It will give the theologians a chance to crow over the scientists, for quarreling with Moses' cosmogony because it did not agree with one which they themselves now acknowledge to be a false one, and, doubtless, it will give the scientists a chance to retort by laughing at those ingenious divines who have demonstrated so conclusively that the First Book of Moses does agree with the geological theory just upset.

GEN. EMORY'S SINECURE IN DANGER.—A special to the Chicago Tribune, dated Washington, May 30th, says:

There are some spicy rumors afloat to day concerning General Sherman and Major Gen. Emory, growing out of the appointment of the latter as Governor of the Soldiers' Home, outside of Washington. Sherman has opposed Emory's appointment all along, contending that he should be ordered to join his regiment, and some invalid officer given the snug berth of the Soldiers' Home But Emory out-manœuvred Sherman in the business, and induced President Grant to give him the appointment, notwithstanding all the opposition. It now appears that Sherman still objects, and that his opposition to Emory's taking hold of the snug berth is so strong that Emory will probably conclude to resign the appointment. It is said that, should Emory resign the position, Gen Sprig Carroll will then be appointed. Carroll was a gallant officer, and received two wounds during the late rebellion.

Not less than half a dozen young ladies are said to make a living in Nashville by dunning new fashioned dresses on fine days and promenading the most frequented thoroughfares. The girls must have a very fine figure and be good looking. These rare qualities enable them to command their own terms. A very superior "walker," as they are termed, can get five dollars a day.

The editor of the San Diego Union is an eminently honest man. His delicacy is shocked at the spectacle of digger Indians perambulating the streets of the town without a full supply of "store clothes." This fastidious gentleman says, "Such sights may do for the theaters of San Francisco, but not for San Diego." If the good people of San Diego are so easily shocked they ought to raise a fund to provide the diggers with breeches.

THE DAY fixed to commence work on the East Side Railroad is July 1st. By that time the Company will have sufficient Railroad Iron on the way or in Portland to complete twenty miles of road. Workmen without employment should be patient for the Company will give employment to a thousand men at good wages, and of course KOHN & FISHEL will continue to sell the very best clothing in that time at remarkably low figures.

The best and most popular companies will then be those that promise only equity, and render all that they promise, and furnish the best security, with the most upright and judicious management."

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of it consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

REPUBLICAN CITY TICKET.

For Mayor—B. GOLDSMITH.
Recorder—LEVI ANDERSON.
Marshal—PHILIP SAUNDERS.
Auditor and Clerk—WM S. CALDWELL.
Treasurer—E D. BACKENSTOS.
Attorney—C. A. DOLPH.
Surveyor—H. J. STEVENSON.
Assessor—OSCAR KILBOURN.
Street Commissioner—JACOB SHARTLE

For Councilmen.

First Ward—C. BILLS.
Second Ward—WALTER MOFFITT.
Third Ward—D. C. LEWIS.

The Ticket.

The Republican Convention last evening nominated a ticket which is eminently worthy of the respect, confidence and support of the people of Portland. No better ticket was ever presented for their suffrages. It comprises the names of citizens whose integrity is well known, and whose fitness for the several positions for which they have been nominated must be generally acknowledged. By proper effort this whole ticket can be elected by a large majority, and we believe the Republicans of the city will not now fail in their duty. Let us have earnest, energetic work from now until the close of the election. Let no Republican be remiss. We have it in our power now to strike a blow that will tell upon future contests; and having an unexceptionable ticket, let us all come up with earnestness to the work and achieve a decisive victory.

Something Entirely New.

"There seems to be a general conviction," says our cheerful neighbor of the Herald, "that sooner or later our people, who at the instance of Radical politicians have been sowing the wind, will be compelled to reap the whirlwind." No doubt it will; strike every general reader that he has seen something like this before. There has been a plentiful crop of this sort of prophecies during the last ten years. The people, we have been told were getting tired of "Radical rule," and there was a "growing conviction" that the country was going to the bow wows. But the people have seen fit by their suffrages to continue "Radical rule" from year to year, and the country under "Radical" guidance has not yet reached a condition like that in which it was left by profound Democratic statesmanship in 1861.

"The Radical party," the Herald further informs us, "are entirely to blame for this state of affairs. They are solely responsible for our burdensome and ruinous tariffs. They are solely responsible for those laws which exempt the rich bondholder from taxation." That "ruinous tariffs" are just what protect us from the half-paid labor of England and the competition of the swarming millions of China. Abolish the tariffs and we have all China at our doors at once. The presence of a few Chinese in America is terribly distressing to the Democracy, but that party has no shrinking idea to allow the products of the labor of four hundred millions of Chinese to come into this country free of duty and compete with the products of our own labor. The fact that the "Radical party is responsible for those laws which protect the bondholder from taxation," makes the "Radicals" the framers of the Constitution, since the bondholder finds his exemption in that instrument and not in the laws. The Herald, we suppose, expects to build up its party and to make it triumphant by such profound arguments as these.

In Jail.

The Orinoco, the great river of Venezuela, which for such vast reaches of its course has been fated to "hear no sound save its own roarings," is about to be opened to a regular system of trade and thoroughfare by the Hero steamer, belonging to the Venezuela Steam Transportation Company. The pioneer ship has left New York to be followed by others in due time. The Amazon can run for a thousand miles up that noble stream.

"If," said General Butler, the other day, of Secretary Boutwell, "I know anything of the Secretary—and I've had an intimate knowledge of the man for thirty years—I can say fairly that if the Wall street people think they can change him in any policy he has taken and about which he has thoroughly informed himself and made up a deliberate judgment, they're very much mistaken or I am."

The Walla Walla Statesman takes a different view of the Democratic defeat in Washington Territory from that taken by the Herald. It says that Moore was the strongest man the Democrats could have nominated, and that if any other candidate had been selected the defeat would have been an utter rout. The Statesman don't believe that a secession, repudiation candidate could have been elected. Nobody but the editor of the Herald does believe it.

A Western Man," writing from Ohio to the New York Evening Post, about Mr. Boutwell's policy, sums up the views taken by the masses of the people outside of Wall street and Wall street interests. He says that though the New Yorkers may make the question of finance appear confused and complicated to a Western man, there is one thing he understands and likes. He likes to see the debt getting smaller. It is a fact he can understand, make his neighbors comprehend, and by it abash the repudiationists.

An intense feeling of indignation has been aroused among the Democrats by the little row kicked up by some of the baser sort of negroes in the Washington City election. The riot is exaggerated and dwelt upon as if it were the first one ever occurring at the polls. The Marysville Appeal says: "White men row, quarrel and fight at the polls, and the police and military are called upon to suppress the rioters; but if a few negroes kick up a row it is the strongest evidence of their incapacity to exercise franchise rights. White men have set them bad examples."

The Woolen Manufacturers' Association of the Northwest publish approximate statements of the number of woolen and cotton mills in the different States, as follows: Massachusetts, 593; Pennsylvania, 517; New York, 265; Rhode Island, 292; Connecticut, 284; New Hampshire, 150; Illinois, 133; New Jersey, 116; Indiana, 115; Ohio, 114; Maine, 100; Vermont, 68; Michigan, 55; Iowa, 53; Georgia, 47; Wisconsin, 42; Tennessee, 40; South Carolina, 40; North Carolina, 40; Maryland, 35; Missouri, 27; Virginia, 24; Kentucky, 24; Delaware, 19; Mississippi, 14; Alabama, 11; Oregon, 6; Kansas, 7. Of a total number of 3,500, New England has 1,487, and the States of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire, have 2,201, or about two-thirds of the whole. The rapid growth of the manufactures of the South since the war is worthy of notice.

THE SPANISH REGENERATION. The people of Spain are encountering the severest strains upon their patriotism and patience. The question of the succession to the vacant throne is one which the condition and circumstances of the country render it extremely difficult to settle, but some of the members of the Cortes are opposing further delay. In the patience with which Spain has borne an already long protracted interregnum in her government, that people have wholly disappointed the concurrent apprehensions of the world. Her annals since the glorious days of Ferdinand present no such splendid example of a national dignity of character and stability of purpose as this which has been exhibited in the self-restraint of her people; through all the critical months which have elapsed since the expulsion of their dishonored queen. It is indeed wonderful that a nation, whose sole experience of governmental polity, through all the centuries of the later civilization, has been one of arbitrary despotisms, and of the most hopeless submission to that yoke of authority which was always of iron to the masses of her population, should thus, with one long, calm, steady, inflexible step, place herself in the front rank of European advancement, maintaining there a grave repose which astonishes an almost incredulous world.

Ingredients of Precious Stones.

Very few persons who admire or deal in precious stones are acquainted with the intimate structure of those valuable minerals, and most persons will be astonished to learn that these bodies, apparently so solid and homogeneous, are often full of minute cavities, which enclose a liquid. Sapphires generally contain fluid cavities. Sir David Brewster met with one no less than a third of an inch long, but other authors have seen none more than one-tenth of an inch in diameter. These are usually half filled with a mubile and highly expansible liquid, which is considered to be carbonic acid. Sapphires are composed of pure alumina, colored by a metallic oxide. The ruby is also colored alumina. Cavities, we are told, are far less numerous in these than in sapphires, and, moreover they appear to contain only water or a saline solution.

Occasionally a liquid with similar characteristics to that observed in sapphires is to be seen, but not often; and we are thus led to suppose that the stone may be produced by different reactions and under different physical conditions. Emeralds are often full of cavities which contain a liquid that does not expand when heated, and is apparently a strong aqueos saline solution. The diamond is, of course, the most interesting of all our precious stones, the origin and mode of formation of which has always been a great puzzle to chemists and mineralogists. Its structure has already been studied by Goppert, who discovered what he conceived to be organic remains, and hence infers that the diamond is the result of vegetable decomposition under peculiar conditions. Sir David Brewster first noticed fluid cavities in the diamond, and explained the optical peculiarities of some diamonds by their presence.

Cut diamonds sometimes enclose minute crystals of a different mineral, to which circumstance they also owe in part their peculiar optical properties. In diamond, also, the enclosed liquid appears to be carbonic acid, as shown by its extraordinary expansibility. Only one other known liquid has anything like an equal rate of expansion, and that is nitrous oxide. The occurrence of this body in mineral is, it is said, highly improbable, and it seems, on the whole, that we may be justified in including liquid mineral substances.

THE BETTER HALF OF A GREAT MAN.—To promote her husband's interest, Mrs. Benjamin Franklin tended shop, where she bought rags, sewed pamphlets, folded newspapers, and sold the few articles in which he dealt, such as inks, papers, lampblack, blanks, anil other stationery. At the same time she was an excellent housekeeper, and beside being economical herself taught her careless, disorderly husband to be economical also.

Sometimes Franklin was clothed from head to foot in garments which his wife had both woven and made, and for a long time performed all the work of a servant. Nevertheless, she knew how to be liberal at the proper times. Franklin tells us that for some years after his marriage his breakfast was bread and milk; they ate out of a two-penny earthen vessel, with a pewter spoon; but one morning, on going down to breakfast, he found upon the table a beautiful China bowl, from which his bread and milk was steaming, with a silver spoon by its side, which had cost a sum equal, in our currency, to ten dollars. When he expressed his astonishment at this unwonted splendor, Mrs. Franklin only observed that she thought her husband deserved a silver spoon and a China bowl as much as any of his neighbors.

Franklin prospered in his business until he became the most famous editor and the most flourishing printer in America, which gave him the pleasure of relieving his wife from the cares of business, and enabled him to provide for her a spacious and well-furnished abode. She adorned a high station as well as she bore a lowly one, and she presided at her husband's liberal table as gracefully as when he ate his breakfast of bread and milk from a two-penny bowl.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT MATTERS.—The Treasury Department has issued the following circular to collectors and other officers of customs:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, }
May 29, 1869. }

The attention of the Department has been called to the injury which results to the public interests from the acceptance by employees in the revenue service of presents or gratuities from importers and merchants, which practice, it is believed, prevails to a considerable extent, and that the service is more or less demoralized in consequence.

Collectors of customs, naval officers, surveyors and appraisers are hereby instructed to cause to be made known to each and every subordinate officer or employe under their control the following provision of law, and to give as much publicity as possible to the same by posting a copy thereof in some conspicuous place in the custom house and appraiser's office, and they are strictly enjoined to report to this Department the name of an employe or other person offending against said provisions of law, for its action in the premises.

GEORGE S. BOUTWELL,
Secretary of the Treasury.

"Ethan Spikes" writes from Boston to a cotemporary that Mr. Gilmore has five earthquakes making at the South Boston foundries, for the Peace Jubilee, and two more "lively ones from South America for the hallylooyer chorus; the great Hoosac Boar, three fiddlers of the venerable King Cole, and Peter Piper of Pickled pepper memory, her arrived. I applied for a situation, and was rehearsed several times. Mr G. thinks my voice has more vollum than sweetness. 'I don't kink I can work you in, unless as a bull of Bashan, in a bellerin' korus.' Says I, 'any where; I am willing to exert each vocal powers as nater hes gin me, where they will be most effectin. Let us hev piece.' 'Amen,' says he."

It is to be regretted, says an exchange, that there has never been made, under any auspices, national, State or metropolitan, a collection of American newspapers. Every one who has read the foot-notes of Macauley's "History of England" knows what use he has made of the ballads and political pamphlets which were at one time a substitute for newspapers. It is the custom at present to preserve in the British Museum copies of all journals published in Great Britain. A provision of the Internal Revenue Law enacts that the publisher of each paper shall send to the Internal Revenue Department a copy of each issue of his journal.

ENLARGED.—The White Pine Daily News is enlarged, with a new head, and much improved generally with new type. Forbes says he will "do it bigger," soon. It is a live paper. White Pine now runs three daily papers well filled by home advertisements—evidence "that's some kind of a varmint in that thar hole."

An editor was attacked by a man for some personal grievance. The editor says. "To avoid injuring him, and to prevent him from injuring us, we got out of the way."

Opposition to Discharge of Bankrupt, by Creditor—Discharge Granted

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DISTRICT OF OREGON—FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1869.

In the matter of W. C. Whetmore, a voluntary Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

PETITION FOR FINAL DISCHARGE

On October 27th, 1868, the petitioner was adjudged a bankrupt upon his own petition. No debts having been proved against his estate, on March 2d, 1869, the petitioner filed his petition for final discharge from his debts. To this petition John A. Blanchard, a creditor, appeared and filed specification of grounds of opposition to the discharge.

On May 22, 1869, the matter was tried by the Court, without the intervention of a jury.

The grounds of opposition to the discharge, are

1 That the bankrupt swore falsely in his affidavit annexed to his schedule, in this, that he wilfully failed to insert therein a certain judgment debt due said Blanchard.

2 That said bankrupt swore falsely in the affidavit aforesaid, in this, that he claimed a horse and spring wagon, as exempt, on account of being necessary to carry on his business.

3 That said bankrupt swore falsely in the affidavit aforesaid, in this, that he wilfully failed to insert in his schedule a debt due to S. F. Shattuck.

The latter ground of opposition seems to have been made under a misapprehension of the facts, and was abandoned on the argument.

The second ground of opposition is insufficient. The bankrupt is a house carpenter, and it may be admitted that a horse and wagon are no part of the tools or implements necessary to enable a carpenter to carry on his trade. If he is also engaged in the business of a contractor, he may find it necessary to own or employ a team or teams. But the business of a contractor is not a "trade, occupation or profession" within the meaning of the local law of this district, which exempts certain tools, implements, etc., from execution. (Or. Civ. Code, § 279.) If the law were construed otherwise a merchant or shopkeeper might successfully claim his stock in trade, of whatever value, to be exempt from the operation of the act, because the same would be necessary to enable him to carry on his business.

But the affidavit to schedule B does not state that this property was exempt from the operation of the act because necessary to carry on his business. It is in the prescribed form and merely declares "the said schedule to be a statement of all his estate, both real and personal" etc. In this respect the truth of the affidavit is not questioned. True the schedule itself contains a statement that this horse and wagon is exempt, but it seems to me that this is no part of the affidavit. And if it were, I do not think, it would be sufficient to prevent the petitioner's discharge. If the schedule contains "an accurate inventory" of the bankrupt's property, that is sufficient. Whether a particular article should be stated in the schedule as exempt from the operation of the act or not, must often be a mere matter of opinion. An error in this respect, however gross, it seems to me is not a bar to a discharge. If the bankrupt makes an erroneous or unfounded claim in this respect, it is the duty of the assignee to correct it, and if he fails to do his duty in the premises, the creditors may appeal to the court for relief.

As to the first ground for opposition the testimony establishes the following facts:

Before the commencement of the proceedings in bankruptcy the opposing creditor, Blanchard, had a judgment against the bankrupt for $16 50. Whetmore being desirous of going through bankruptcy, consulted an attorney, who advised him to settle or arrange Blanchard's claim, and go through for the rest of his liabilities, which he called "Carriboo debts." The result was that the attorney for the bankrupt and Blanchard with the bankrupt's assent, agreed that the attorney would pay the debt of $16 50, and that the same might be omitted from the schedules in the contemplated proceedings in bankruptcy.

Whether this transaction amounted to a novation by which the debt due from the bankrupt was extinguished or is a mere promise to pay the debt of another, may be a question.

But in any view of the matter, the circumstances are sufficient to preclude this creditor from opposing the discharge upon this ground. He agreed and consented to the omission of the debt from the schedule. Upon this understanding the bankrupt filed his petition in bankruptcy, omitting this debt from his schedule. The creditor having induced the bankrupt to make this omission ought not now to be heard to object to his discharge, on account of it.

Of course I do not intend to be understood as endorsing the morality or propriety of this transaction. On the contrary it is quite evident that there was an intention to prefer Blanchard contrary to law and by the suppression of fact. But as to this, the parties are equally in the wrong, and the law leaves them as it finds them. The discharge is granted. DEADY, J.

Bybee for petitioner.
Fechheimer for creditor.

William H. Seward.

[From the Oakland (Cal.) Transcript.]

This distinguished citizen is now on his way to California, and although we cannot approve many of his official acts during his connection with the Cabinet of Andrew Johnon, nor the doctrines and ideas upon which they were based, yet we find it impossible to rid ourselves of the great admiration for the man which has grown up from boyhood, and strengthened through all the years, except the last four. We are not disposed to cast out or abate that admiration, we love to cherish and ruminate it. To do it, we accept the theory of a friend, that the knife of the assassin changed and poisoned the man, and so to say, ended the ancient Seward, and put another man in his garment when he rose from that, almost literally, and in one sense really, bed of death. That great leader of the hosts of freedom through the last thirty years. The man who best combines the qualities of statesman, politician and popular leader of any in history. The man who had the clear vision to see the rights of man and their intrinsic worth, when put into the scale of earthly values. Who believed that the chief end of Government was to protect and build up man. Who, while demanding all for man, knew that all could not be obtained at once, and was content to take what he could get, and became a practical statesman and not a mere theorist. A man who, while a philosopher, dreaming of what ought to be, was also a worker, getting all that could be obtained at the moment. While far in advance of the multitudes in principles and ideas, yet in fact, kept with them to bring a majority to back his ideas and put them into power and action. A politician who could always get office by his attractive force in drawing the masses to his standard. A Senator who could proclaim the "higher law," among a set of besotted despots, and when reviled did not revile again. A popular leader who, on the stump, declared the "irrepressible conflict" between free and slave labor, far in advance of the public sentiment, and yet was not abandoned as a theorist, nor an impracticable reformer. As we remember all the long years in which he stood the bold champion of freedom, seeing the great Whig party broken and scattered on the rock of slavery; and then entering the new Republican ranks, and standing in the van, bearing its principles, though not the candidate's banner. When we recall the Chicago Convention, which desired his nomination, but could not effect it, and guided by Providence, put the standard in the hands of Abraham Lincoln, to the great disappointment of many, and that campaign when Mr. Seward exerted all his great power to elect the man who had taken the place, due as many thought to him, we can never cease to applaud his unselfish greatness. As Secretary of State under Lincoln, he certainly managed our foreign affairs with great skill, while he never abated one jot of the demands we are now making as to the Alabama claims in the days they were accruing. For all these things we hope Mr. Seward will be remembered with gratitude, and hailed with enthusiasm by the people of this State. We are in a forgiving mood. We can overlook all Mr Seward's errors for the good of his whole life. We can greet him as a great statesman should be greeted by citizens of a Republic he has faithfully served for thirty years. California owes Mr Seward a special debt of thanks and praise. He has ever been a friend watchful of our interest, ever ready to help our representatives to secure all the benefits we deserved. Of the Pacific Railroad he has ever been a firm and steady friend, an able and efficient advocate. Let us give him a hearty and generous welcome. Oakland will, undoubtedly, be favored with his presence. If, as we believe, the associated Alumni will have the honor of an oration, in response to their invitation given long ago, then will be the fit occasion of an ovation by the very men best able to appreciate him. The scholars of this coast are the very men to do him honor.

The wisdom of reuniting the two disevered branches of the Presbyterian Church is negatively established by the angry and characteristic protest of Dr Robert J. Breckinridge. He revels in a controversy like a certain personage "in a gale of wind." He is the Breckinridge of whom Tom Marshall once said, speaking of the time when both of them were unhorsed in the field of political contest by Henry Clay—"One took to theology and the other to the law, and I have stuck to my text better than Rob. Breckinridge has to his."

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MADRID, June 16.—In the Cortes yesterday the future form of Government was discussed. Senor Ochar favored the speedy election of a King, and pointed out the advantages of a Monarchical Government, which is more in accordance with the traditions of the people. He preferred the election of Don Carlos. Senor Bremar contended that the prospects of Don Carlos was extinct.

BERLIN, June 16.—The King of Prussia has arrived in the city. He was entertained to-day at a banquet given in his honor by the city, and made a speech, in the course of which he said if Providence had formed the accomplishment of a great and unexpected work through him, it was not by himself alone, but by his companions and allies that his work was executed. All that was sought by the present generation has not been accomplished, but their successors would gather the fruit and witness the completion of the edifice, the foundation of which has been laid. In conclusion, His Majesty expressed his thanks for the reception, and hopes for the prosperity of the city.

FLORENCE, June 16.—Signor Libbate, member of the Chamber of Deputies, was attacked to-day by an assassin in the street and had a desperate struggle. The assassin fled, leaving the Deputy badly wounded.

BRUSSELS, June 16.—Negotiations made between France and the Belgium Government for a settlement of commercial differences had been resumed and are progressing favorably. Probably they will be terminated before the end of the present month.

CORK, June 16.—Four men attacked the house of Gray, magistrate, last night. The inmates resisted and fired on the assailants, one of whom was badly wounded. The others fled.

BERLIN, June 16.—The Zollverein parliament have reported a proposed duty on petroleum.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, June 18. The funeral of His Excellency Frederick Seymour, late Governor of British Columbia, took place at Esquimalt on Wednesday. The steamer Enterprise went down crowded with mourners, and the roads leading from the city presented one continuous stream of carriages and pedestrians. The pall-bearers were Sir James Douglass, K. C. B.; Chief Justice Needham, Capt. Edyorn and Capt. Mist, R. N. The signal gun from H. M. S. Satellite was fired. The bells at Esquimalt and in the city commenced to ring, and the procession, estimated to number over 1,000 persons, moved slowly on toward the cemetery, headed by the band of the Victoria Rifle Volunteers, playing the "Dead March in Saul." Seventeen minute guns being fired in the meanwhile from H. M. S. Satellite. With the usual ceremonies and a military salute, the body of the late Governor was consigned to its last resting place.

The will of Governor Seymour was opened and read yesterday morning. It bequeaths a sum to his brother, Major General Seymour, equerry to the Prince of Wales, and all the remainder, with the exception of a legacy of £400 to Mr. Lowndes, to Mrs. Seymour. Mr. A. T. Bushby is appointed Executor.

It is stated that Mr. Musgrove of New Foundland has been appointed Governor and will leave England for this Colony immediately.

The funeral of Commander Horace Douglas Lacernes, R. N., took place yesterday at Esquimalt. Deceased was a young officer of much promise and was highly respected.

We have also to record a horrible murder which took place on San Juan Island yesterday. The murdered man is Mr. A. Hibbard, one of the proprietors of the San Juan Island lime kiln. The murderer was one of his partners named James Watts. He is in custody and will be tried by the American military authorities of the Island.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used
It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use the new invention in our wives and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO JUNE 16.

President Grant at Boston.

BOSTON, June 16.—President Grant responded to Gov. Claflin's welcome as follows: "It affords me great pleasure to visit the Capital of a State which did so much for my support and for the support of the Union in the times of the great rebellion. A State whose principle did so much to give me whatever political position I have attained, and a State where I have received hearty welcome in other days."

Members of the Governor's Council, the Supreme Bench, the Lieutenant-Governor and others were then introduced. The President, after the ceremony, was escorted to the Senate Chamber where he was welcomed by President Pittman. The members of the Senate were then personally introduced to the President and numerous ladies. The President and party were then escorted by the Sergeant at Arms to the House of Representatives, where Speaker Jewell made an address of welcome. The President was then introduced to the members of the House, after which the party proceeded, under a cavalry escort, to review the State troops under Gen. Butler. After the President reviewed the troops, he proceeded to the Coliseum where he was received with immense enthusiasm by the large assemblage, which was not less than 50,000 inside of the buildings, and as many more outside.

The programme of the concert to-day was mostly classical selections, and the performance gave complete satisfaction. The singing of Adelaide Phillips and Parepa Rosa was received with immense applause, and encored at the close of the concert.

The President partook of a sumptuous banquet at the Revere House and afterwards left for Groton where he will be the guest of Boutwell.

A sad event occurred this evening in the Coliseum in the death by apoplexy of Mrs. Dunlap, the wife of George S. Dunlap, of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Co., and daughter of Mrs. Pond, of Boston.

Judge Paschal, attorney for Texas, has demanded of George Peabody & Co., of London, through their New York house, Dobley, Morgan & Co., $160,000, realized by them on Texas in indemnity bonds, covered by the decision in the case of Texas vs. White & Chiles. He will most likely recover the money without litigation.

A colored man named Nichols has been appointed night surveyor at Galveston, Texas.

Intelligence was received to-day at the Internal Revenue office of the existence of a large number of illicit distilleries in Lee county, Va., on the Kentucky border, and of a combination among them to resist the laws. The Secretary of the Treasury directs the Assistant Treasurer at New York to make purchase of bonds for the last week of this month, on Tuesday, 29th, instead of Wednesday, that accounts may be returned before the 1st of July. He has also ir structed him to purchase bonds to the amount of $620,000, at either of the next two weekly purchases, in addition to the regular purchase within the week, in order to increase the Sinking Fund by the close of the fiscal year to a proportionate amount for the four months of the present Administration—the two per cent. of the entire debt to be purchased during each fiscal year for that fund.

Thirty watchmen and laborers are discharged from the Treasury Department on account of the reduction in last year's appropriation bill. Others will be dismissed in a few days. A large number of clerks in the second and fourth Auditor's, Secretary's and Register's offices will be dismissed about the last of the month.

The Postmaster General has appointed seven clerks to supply vacancies recently caused by removals.

Kansas Land Troubles.

KANSAS, June 16.—A series of resolutions was passed by the settlers on the neutral lands in Iowa county, Kansas, announcing their determination to stand firm and hold themselves in readiness to defend their rights before the courts whenever assailed. They tender sympathy to those who have proved up under the Jay purchase. If they stand firm in the future the past will be forgiven. They denounce all reports of lawlessness and outrages on the neutral lands as slander on settlers, and assure all concerned that there will be no difficulty, and that all honest men are welcome among them, and will be as safe there as in any place in the United States that they never have and will not now wage war upon private individuals, but they will resist to the fullest extent the entrance to build the railroad or exercise other acts of ownership on the neutral land until the neutrality or invalidity of said purchase is fully and completely settled.

St. Louis Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—It is announced to-night that McCoole, while claiming that the decision of the referee is correct, has no desire to take advantage of it, and has sent a challenge to Allen to fight for five thousand dollars within three months.

Memories of the Old Kitchen.

BY MRS. S. F. SNOW.

ar back, in my musings, my thoughts have been cast,
To the cot where the hours of my childhood were past;
I loved all its rooms, to the pantry and hall,
But that old kitchen was dearer than all;
Its chairs and its table, none brighter could be,
For all its surroundings were sacred to me—
To the nail in the ceiling, the latch on the door,
And I loved every crack of that old kitchen floor.

I remember the fireplace with mouth high and wide,
The old-fashioned oven that stood by its side,
Out of which, each Thanksgiving, came puddings and pies,
That ... bewildered and dazzled our eyes;
And then, too, Saint Nicholas, slyly and still,
Came down every Christmas, our stockings to fill;
But the dearest of memories I've laid up in store,
Is the MOTHER that trod that old kitchen floor.

Day in and day out, from morning till night,
Her footsteps were busy, her heart always light,
For it seemed to me then that she knew not a care,
The smile was so gentle her face made to wear;
I remember with pleasure what joy filled our eyes,
When she told us the stories that children so prize;
They were new every night, though we'd heard them before
From her lips, at the wheel, on the old kitchen floor.

I remember the window where mornings I'd run,
As soon as the daybreak, to watch for the sun,
And I thought, when my head scarcely reached to the sill,
That it slept through the night in the trees on the hill,
And the small tract of ground, that my eyes there could view,
Was all of the world that my infancy knew;
I knew, I cared not to know of it more,
For a world in itself was that old kitchen floor.

To-night those old visions come back at their will,
But the years of its music forever are still;
The hand I held in mine, o'er the wheel hold sway,
And the fingers that tuned it lie mold'ring in clay;
The heartstone, so sacred, is just as 'twas then,
And the voices of children ring out there again;
The sun through the window looks in as of yore,
But it sees stranger feet on the old kitchen floor.

I ask not to [illegible] that this I must grave,
That when the lips speaking are closed in the grave,
My children will gather theirs round at their side,
And tell of the mother that long ago died;
'Twould be more welcoming, far dearer to me,
Than [illegible] on marble or [illegible] would be,
To [illegible] Of the MOTHER that trod the old kitchen floor.

Ben Wade and Grant.

Old Ben Wade, who had been up at Boston at the meeting of the directors of the Pacific Railroad, came here yesterday on his way to his home in Ohio to see, as he says jocosely, how the Government runs without him. Being out of office he has no favors to ask, either for himself or his friends, and the doors of the [illegible] is [illegible] wants open to him with wonderful freedom. Old Ben paid his respects to the President while here, and they smoked a cigar together and discussed what might have been and what is. When the impeachment trial was in progress no man was more confident than Grant that Wade would be President in place of Andrew Johnson, to be deposed. The interview yesterday naturally trended upon this point; but Wade was not ungracious to talk about it. He therefore turned the conversation by asking Grant if he had got fairly into the harness yet. Grant replied that he had, but added that the Presidency was not what it was cracked up to be. "Hard work, hard work, Wade," said the President, "and little thanks," and took a strong pull at his cigar and sighed as if to say that he had [illegible] compliment of ever President," replied Wade, "and yet every politician in the country is crazy on the subject of the Presidency. Why, General, do you know that [illegible] in the United States Senate wants to be [illegible] and that has been the case from the beginning of the Government." Grant opened his eyes at this, and he seemed to consider why the Senate was so captious with the P[illegible]

"I find that I can't please everybody in this office," [illegible] Grant.

"Of course you can't," responded Wade. "I hope you don't [illegible] to do that."

"Well, [illegible] I [illegible] said Grant, but still I [illegible] be so [illegible] to please [illegible]

"[illegible] I would [illegible] Grant I would [illegible] me President [illegible] and I [illegible] other fellows [illegible] devil. [illegible] would [illegible] you [illegible] closed Grant, "you friends [illegible] what [illegible]

"Why [illegible] and then [illegible] I would tell the— they might make the best of it," said Wade [illegible]

"[illegible] Mr. Wade, after [illegible] to lose in the [illegible] Grant.

"[illegible] like a boy [illegible] out of school [illegible] I have no [illegible] with fellows [illegible] me for this, that and the other thing, and I can enjoy myself and feel independent."

"[illegible] is the best, I guess, Mr. Wade," said Grant, "there is more peace in it, and then [illegible] your own [illegible]

"[illegible] added he, "that, anyhow," said Wade, with a [illegible] toss of his head.

"[illegible] fellows to boss me. I always had my [illegible]

Like was a kiss for Grant. Whether he improved [illegible] going to be rain Ben Wade left for Ohio to-night.—Washington Correspondence

Who's to run "Dred Scott?"—The world [illegible] was [illegible] by Dumas the younger, and in the preface to the latest collection of his works, the author complains that the farce has been [illegible] plied by the ignorance or [illegible] ess of the public, so as to confound the class he meant to distinguish. The demi-monde, he says, does not represent, as is supposed and printed, the mob of courtesans, but that class of women who belong to no [illegible] and who [illegible] or [illegible] on to the only gained by certain [illegible] It is composed of [illegible] who, [illegible] young girls, as wives, or as mothers, have been with perfect right received and cherished in the best [illegible] who have deserted. The name of a bear are simultaneously borne in the true world which has excluded them, by men, women and children for whom you and I profess the most deserved esteem, and to whom, by tacit agreement, one never speaks of their wives, daughters or mothers. Never[illegible] as one must not be too severe, especially when one wishes to enjoy life, that world receives, also, young girls who have made their [illegible] who like matrimonially with a man whose name they bear, pretty and elegant foreign ladies, recommended [illegible] and entrusted by some of their intimate acquaintances, under his personal responsibility; in short, all these women who have their roots in regular society, and whose fall has love for its excuse and love only, nudus sed pauper. It begins where the legal spouse ends, and ends where the legal spouse begins.

GOOD COUNTRY.—A correspondent of the New York Independent has the annexed, writing from that city:

"As I [illegible] the throng waiting the departure of the [illegible] a group of emigrants, and in it two children crying bitterly, apparently from sh[illegible] sleep[illegible] ess and fatigue.

"Poor little things," I said "how tired they seem."

"Yes," answered the mother, who stood by, trying to comfort them—a neatly-clad, [illegible] woman, [illegible] soft, dark eyes and abundant chestnut hair coiled under her torn hood. "Yes, they are tired out. We landed [illegible] day from England after five long weeks at sea. But, thank God! I don't mind it now. We've got to the good country."

Sweet-faced, weary woman, may it indeed prove to you and your children a good country, and in the far Western home you go to gain may you find cheer and plenty to compensate you for the hardships of the past. The good country! That is what America is to toiling, straightened millions all over the earth, and God grant that it may never cease to be.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY.—The Honolulu Gazette gives an account of the discovery of a very valuable cement at Molokia. It is described as one of the best fire-proof and hydraulic cements in use. It is formed of volcanic ashes from the volcanoes of Molokia, and the Hawaiians expect to find in it "a new source of commerce, and with it a demand for labor, certainly less exciting, but not less remunerative in the end, than 'White Pine.'"

Important Facts!!!

THE CAPITAL STOCK
—OF—
THE PACIFIC
MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.,
OF CALIFORNIA,
IS PAID IN,
IN GOLD COIN!!
—AND—
Cost Nothing to be INSURED!

This is Additional Security, Without Cost to the Insured, that the Capital Stock bears its own Interest!

THE PUBLIC CAN ACQUAINT ITSELF WITH the business reputation and standing of the Stockholders and Directors of the Company, and determine from that knowledge whether the affairs of the Company are likely to be honestly and fairly administered for the benefit of the Insured.

POLICIES ISSUED BY THE
PACIFIC MUTUAL
ARE NON-FORFEITABLE,
And by the Laws of California,
EXEMPT FROM EXECUTION!

The Company will at any time make AN ADVANCE of Cash on its Policies as future Dividends.
No permits or extra rates required for traveling East or in Europe.
Dividends actually non-forfeitable.
Thirty days grace on the payment of all Premiums.
After two annual payments the Company will, two years after the last payment, issue either a paid up Policy for the proportion of Premiums received, or pay the equivalent in cash.
The rate at which we have been sending money East for Life Assurance will amount, with interest, to at least Ten Million Dollars by January 1, 1870. This sum, enormous as it seems, is totally eclipsed by the magnitude of the interest which the Coast is losing for want of it. For instance: Its yield in the East at 6 per cent., compounded annually for ten years, is $6,952,167 27; here at 12 per cent, for four years, and 10 per cent. for six, compounded monthly, $25,690,900 62, or a difference of over eighteen millions!
With these facts in view what Company will likely pay the largest Dividend? The funds of the PACIFIC are all loaned at 1 to 1½ per cent. per month.
Of this large sum it is computed that Oregon and Washington Territory have contributed about one-fourth. This involves the sending away annually, to keep up the Premiums on Policies already issued, at least six or seven hundred thousand dollars, which if invested will spend itself in the State of all its cash. If to [illegible] ase, it finds its way back here for our productions, a market for which we must look for there.
The applicant need not wait two or three months to know if he is accepted or rejected, but can receive his Policy in less than two weeks, and in case of death the money will be paid to his wife in as short a time.

HYGEIAN HOME
WATER CURE,
637 California Street,
Opp. St. Mary's Cathedral, bet. Kearny & Dupont Sts.,
SAN FRANCISCO.
DR. BARLOW J. SMITH
WOULD RESPECTFULLY INFORM HIS FORMER patrons, and all who desire the professional services of a Hygienic Physician, that he has just returned from the East, after an absence of four months, during which time he has visited nearly all the Water Cures in the Eastern States, and the various Hygienic Establishments of New York City, Boston and Philadelphia; and with this new experience feels more fully prepared than ever to meet all the demands that invalids may justly claim who desire to be cured by this rational form of medication.
In January last DR. SMITH purchased the extensive lot corner of Quincy and California streets, with the buildings thereon, which he has fitted up at great expense, for the accommodation of PATIENTS and BOARDERS, with a greater variety of baths for the cure of DISEASE as well as popular bathing than is to be found in any Water Cure in the United States.
HYGEIAN HOME is the only Regular Water Cure in San Francisco, and by far the most extensive and complete Hygienic Institute on the Pacific Coast.
And we offer to Ministers, Teachers, Lawyers, Miners, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, and all worthy persons, especially those who have tried drugs faithfully without being restored, and who are still desirous of regaining health by this rational system of medicine, the hospitalities of our Hygienic Home and Cure. Young men who have become debilitated or lost their health by excessive toil, exposure or enervating habits, contracted through ignorance of physical laws, may with us find more of the encouragement they need, and means that will restore them to health, than elsewhere in California.
There is not one man in twenty suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, or Diseased Liver, Chills and Fever, Dyspepsia, Drug or Secondary Diseases, Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Impotency or Nervous Debility, Weak or Inflamed Eyes, Bronchical and Catarrhal Affections, Disease of the Heart, Lungs, Kidneys, Constipation, Paralysis, Scrofula, Piles, Inflammation of the Bowels, Chronic and Acute Diarrhœa, Stiff Joints, Oak Poisoning, Weak Backs, Hip Disease, Salt Rheum and many other Diseases common to Men and Women, that cannot be permanently cured in from two to six weeks by Water Cure and Hygienic treatment. Not only will they get cured, but they can learn how to keep well when they go to their mountain homes, their mines, their farms, their stores, and all this for one-half what it would cost to take drugs.
Terms $20, by the single week, or $60 for four weeks, Board, Room and Treatment (in all ordinary cases.
N. B.—All suffering from cutaneous diseases are treated in separate baths, which are never used by persons bathing for cleanliness. The greatest care and neatness is observed in this respect. No contagious diseases, such as Small Pox and Ship Fever, treated in the Institution.
We have a separate Medical Department for Ladies, which is attended by a thoroughly competent woman, while the private residence of DR. SMITH, which is connected with the Home, is chiefly devoted to the accommodation of ladies desiring Hygienic medical treatment.
We have for the past ten years made the treatment of female diseases a specialty, and have treated a great number of females, both in the Institute and in their private residences in this city, Sacramento and Oakland, who were suffering from Displacements, Prolapsis Uteri, Uterine Hemorrhage, Sterility, Curvatures of the Spine, Inflammations, Congestions, and ALL NERVOUS DISEASES, together with diseases common to all.
The ease and rapidity with which the varied diseases and conditions above mentioned have been overcome, especially in the vicinity of the Bay, fully warrant us in declaring that there is not one female in a hundred who is thus afflicted but that can be made well and happy in from three to six weeks by this our high Hydropathic and Hygienic treatment at our Cure. From all who have come to us and been treated, we have yet to learn a single regret from Husband or Wife of the time, means or trouble they expended in HYGIENIC MEDICATION, for they not only get well, but learn how to keep well.
Terms for Ladies, $20 a week, or $100 for six weeks (Board, Room and treatment).
DR. SMITH gives FREE Lectures to his patients every Wednesday evening, and also Lectures before the Ladies' Hygienic Society the first Wednesday in each month.

Proprietor and Consulting Physician.

HIRAM SMITH'S
Ophthalmic Panacea!
IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.
It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.
It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Halsey, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

INFORMATION WANTED.—The Unionist says that a package of display posters, announcing the celebration in Portland, were received at Salem the other day, addressed to "Smith." There was an express charge of $1 50 on the package. The Smiths at Salem being somewhat numerous, it would appear to an unprejudiced mind that the direction was sufficiently definite as to create a reasonable doubt as to which particular Smith should have the honor of paying the $1 50, and the manual exercise of posting the bills. Up to the latest accounts there had been no fighting or "unpleasantness" among the Smiths of Salem over the package, and the indications were that it would not become such a "bone of contention" as to forever alienate the affections of the Smiths, one for another. The person who sent the package should now send a telegraphic dispatch to "Jones," explaining which "Smith" was intended—and let Jones pay for the message. If that don't fetch the matter out of kink, it won't be the fault of the Portland end of the string. We think that this is a case where the presentation of a leather medal with an eloquent and appropriate speech would be justifiable.

FROM SALEM.—We clip the subjoined items from the Unionist of yesterday:

The annual session of the Congregational Association, of Oregon, will convene this morning in the First Congregational Church of Salem. A large number of ministers of that denomination are already in the city.

The grove meeting, under the auspices of the spiritualists, commenced on Friday, the 18th, at the grove near Belpasst, in this county. We hear of a number of Salemites who will attend.

We learned yesterday that Judge Boise will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Corvallis, and Hon. S. F. Chadwick at McMinnville.

Cloud Grubb, of Polk county, a young man who went East at the outbreak of the rebellion, and enlisted in the army, arrived home yesterday. He was in several of the severest engagements of the war, and was twice severely, and it was thought mortally wounded. He will meet a hearty welcome home from many friends.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The following were disposed of yesterday:

State of Oregon vs. Jack Brushard; defendant arraigned; stating that his name was Jack Brushard, he was given until Saturday next to plead.

State of Oregon vs. Derrigen; indicted for larceny in stealing a scow and violin, the value of which reached $15.

State vs. George Forrest; indicted for assault with intent to kill.

Bissell, Well & Co. vs. H. H. Snow et al; the jury returned at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and reported that it was impossible for them to agree, whereupon the court discharged them. The jury stood ten for plaintiffs and two for defendants.

Mrs. R. C. Sheppard vs. Aug. Zieber, Sheriff; plaintiff non-suited with costs.

Jas. L. Daly vs. J. M. Baldwin et al; action on promissory note; judgment in favor of plaintiff, for $44 25.

BAD PROSPECTS FOR CROPS.—All the country east of the mountains seems to be suffering from drouth. The Walla Walla Statesman says: "Our farmer friends tell us that the crops in this valley for the current year will be short. The falling off is attributed to the long spell of dry weather. Near the foot of the mountains, where there is generally moist through all the year, the crops look well, but further back the pictures is reversed, and of the less favored localities, the farmers tell us that they will not get half crops. The experience of the present year would seem to indicate that in future years our farmers must rely upon irrigation, and where this is not done they must take the chances of half crops. Fortunately our valley is well situated for irrigation, and there is scarce a claim within its limits that cannot command supplies of water from some one of the streams that thread the valley in all directions."

THE CONSPIRATION.—Judge McCoy, Secretary of the Committee of Arrangements informs us that the arrangements thus far made are highly satisfactory to all concerned; that the sub-committees are all actively at work; that good feeling and concert of action prevails; that the entire Fire Department, Military, the professional, Benevolent Associations, and other organizations of this city, have notified the committee of their acceptance of invitations; that the Committee on Invitations have received favorable replies from the fire companies and other organizations of nearly all the surrounding towns; and that everything bids fair for an immense crowd of people here on the 5th. The report circulated by some of the newspapers that George Francis Train will not be here, is incorrect. A definite arrangement has been made with him to come here and deliver the oration, and he will start from San Francisco on the 28th.

FANCY FAIR.—The following has been handed us for publication: A fancy fair, conducted by the benevolent ladies of Cowlitz Prairie and vicinity, will be held on the 6th, 7th and 8th of July, in the new Academy, Cowlitz Prairie, the proceeds of which will be applied to add towards the completion of that educational edifice. Parties from Portland and Vancouver will cooperate with the ladies of Cowlitz Prairie to make the occasion and its results attractive, pleasing and beneficial. It will be a very agreeable and delightful excursion to parties from Portland, Vancouver and the Columbia river, to travel thence to the Cowlitz Prairie and behold the scenery and enjoy the pure air of the Cowlitz and Cowlitz rivers, and by their presence and by such contributions, aid in doing a good work—"the charity of our neighbor and the education of his children."

RIFLE GUARD PICNIC.—The programme for the Emmet Rifle Guard's annual picnic has been published for some days. Judging from the preparations in progress, this will be one of the attractive affairs of the kind. There are to be all sorts of amusements, among which we may mention, dancing, foot races, hurdle races, potatoe race blindfolded, foot ball, sack races, target shooting by members with single target, etc., etc. Prizes are offered in all the leading instances mentioned. The Mechanics' Brass Band will accompany the excursion. Steamer will leave Morrison street wharf at 9:30, and 11, A. M., and at 1 and 2:30 P. M. Excursion and picnic on Sunday next.

LOG CAUSING.—The Commercial says: "Mr. J. C. Hawkins, of the steamer Carrie, while coming down the Cowlitz river recently, met with quite a serious casualty. As the boat was nearing the wharf at a certain landing, Mr. H. supposing that he could check the boat before she reached the wharf, placed his shoulder against the mast to "breast her off." The force proving greater than he supposed, he slipped, and his leg getting caught, his knee was pretty badly crushed. He will probably be lame some time."

DISCOVERY OF NEW AGRICULTURAL REGIONS.—The Farmer says: "From a private letter we learn that a party of three men recently made a prospecting trip into the mountains of Clatsop county in search of minerals. They did not discover any thing of that kind which they believed to be valuable, but they found some very good country for settlement. One of the party, through whom we received this information, has resided in Clatsop county for twenty-five years. There is very little yet known of the interior of the county."

EXTREME HEAT.—A Walla Walla correspondent contributes a letter dated June 13th, with the following: "Nothing new hereabouts except extreme hot weather. The crops in this valley are in a sad condition; rain will do no good now. The mercury stands, at 4 o'clock P. M., to-day at 102 degrees, in the shade." What's all this? On the 13 h, Sunday, the greatest heat here, was 89°. After all, the people of the Willamet valley are the favored people of the Pacific coast.

FOR —Messrs. A. B. Meacham and Ben. Simpson have been in town for a day or two.

We had a call yesterday from J. W. Johnson of the C—. He don't believe that he is read out of the Democratic party enough to hurt anything.

Mr. Turner, of the Jacksonville Sentinel, one of the old editors of the State, arrived in the city yesterday by —. He will remain in the city for a day or two.

ANNIVERSARY.—Quite a number of flags were displayed at half mast yesterday, in honor of the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill. The memory of the Revolutionary war is —— to be reviving; and we are glad of it. When the young remember the old anniversary days and pay them —— of the old-time respect, it is a sign that the spirit of '76 still lives, and that patriotism is still an —— institution.

—— —The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons will convene in annual session in this city to-day.

The Grand Lodge of A. F. and A. M. will begin its —— session at this city on Monday.

We —— that quite a number of the dignitaries of each body have already arrived. The session of the —— Lodge will most likely continue through the —— part of next week.

GOLD YIELD FROM WARREN'S DIGGINGS.—A correspondent of one of the Walla Walla papers express the opinion that the yield of gold from the quartz mines in Warrens, will be larger this year than ever before, and will be more than large enough to compensate for the falling off of the yield from the placer mines.

—— ITEMS.—The Bulletin says the steamer Pacific has lately received new boilers and other repairs.

The Hattie C. Besse has been chartered for a cargo of —— from Puget Sound, for San Francisco.

The Times says the bark H. W. Almy is reported to —— load with flour for San Blas.

STEAMER DETAINED.—The telegraph informs us that the —— Pacific, which sailed from San Francisco at ten A. M., yesterday, for Portland, was detained till evening by the breaking of some part of her machinery. She —— now be expected here before Monday evening.

GOOD TEMPLARS' FESTIVAL.—There is to be a strawberry festival at the hall of Multnomah Lodge, corner of Alder and Front street, to-morrow evening, to which everybody are cordially invited.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Yesterday a tract of 22½ acres of land situated on Mount Pleasant, two and a-half miles —— west of the city, was sold by J. L. Daly, real estate agent, to Dr. Davenport, for $2,100 gold coin.

GOES TO SEA.—The bark Fulkinburg was towed down from Westport on Wednesday to Astoria, and she probably went to sea yesterday.

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION.—This body will meet this evening at the Court House for the purpose of nominating a full ticket for city offices.

An Unsatisfactory Customer.

From the story of "Doubles and Quits," just finished in Blackwood's Magazine, we take a little sketch that is worthy of Dickens. Mr. Finney, the principal character, is visited by a lawyer and friend, for the sake of eliciting some information from him in regard to a suit.

"Good evening, sir," said the lawyer, blandly, on entering.

"Evenin'," said Mr. Finney, without rising, but staring like the Sphynx, and inserting a huge wedge of sonphike cheese into his mouth.

"And a lovely evening it is," continued the lawyer, cheerfully.

"Aint been bout," replied the carpenter thickly, through his cheese.

"You're Mr. Finney, I think?" said my companion.

"Hivery man 'as 'is himpressions," said Mr Finney, washing down the cheese with a mouthful of beer, and keeping his winkless eye upon us. "Sometimes they're kreck—sometimes they're not kreck."

"Quite true," smiled my friend, humoringly, "but I know you're Mr Finney."

"Why do you ask then?"

"Only for form's sake, my dear sir."

"Oh!" and he went on munching and staring, like a cow chewing the cud.

"Mr Thomas Finney, I may say," continued the lawyer.

"Oh! you know that, too, do you?"

"Oh, yes, my dear sir, I know that too."

"Then you didn't want to ask me the question, I expect?"

"No but I know more about you than you think, Mr Finney."

"P'raps you're a hextra clever man."

"I hope so; it's my business to be clever."

"P'raps you know more nor there is to know."

"Oh no, no!" laughed the lawyer, as though much tickled with Mr. Finney; "but I assure you we know nothing that is to your credit."

"Don't you, now?"

"No, indeed, we don't. You've had your misfortunes, of course."

"Of course, of course."

"But you've got over them all."

"There's no more a comin', then, I suppose?"

"My dear sir, let us be serious; I am here as a lawyer."

"That's one misfortune I ain't got over, then."

"Ah! Mr. Finney, I see you're an incorrigible joker, like all you dramatic gentlemen. Will you answer an honest man a plain question, joking apart, now?"

Finney took a pull at his beer, and replied "'Oos a jokin'? I ain't, nor this 'ere gent, as I knows on, and I'm not aweer as you've said nuf fok hextry comic. I din't larfed, as I knows on 'Oos a-jokin'?"

"Will you answer a question, then?"

"I ain't on hoath, I s'pose?"

"Certainly not; it's a private question—all among friends. I only want to see if you can tell me something I know all about already," said the lawyer, rather out diplomatizing himself.

"Ah! I see—it's a h'oundrum, but I give it up—never could make nuffuk of them."

The lawyer looked at me in despair.

"I think you had better ask the question straight forwardly," I said; "there is no reason why Mr. Finney should object to answer it."

Mr. Finney looked perfectly wooden and placid, and browsed away at his bread and cheese.

"Well, then, straightforwardly, Mr. Finney, are you a married man?"

"Well, then, straightforwardly, I can't tell you."

"That's odd; were you ever married?"

"Yes, I was."

"A widower, perhaps!"

"Mayhap."

"You don't know?"

"I don't know, and I don't bruise my boats, and I ain't a going to Rosherville, and, wot's more, I don't care; and now, please to tell me wot this 'ere lark is? Wot are you comin' a nigglin' and a-nigglin' at me for, and disturbin' me at my wittles? 'Oo are you, you white faced cuss?" The manner was as calm as ever, though the words were strong. "I ain't a-goin' to sit hargle-bargin' with you all night; my time's hup—it is. 'Oo are you?"—and he rose.

BUTLER'S PHILOSOPHY OF WAR.—The cost of war is understood. The profitableness of foreign war, especially with Great Britain Mr. Butler undertakes to prove. His great argument "is that it would stop importations." To bring about this result he is anxious to issue a proclamation of non intercourse. That would produce the result he covets. Importations from our largest customer will then cease, and untold prosperity will immediately crown all branches of home industry.

This is the idea as Mr. Butler presents it. But in this shape it is too imperfect to be satisfactory, and we anxiously await its more complete development. The stoppage of importations we can understand. But consequences of the stoppage—will not Mr. Butler explain what they would be? What does he propose to do with the enormous surplus products of our land, a very large proportion of which now find their way into British markets? How does he propose to reconcile the Western farmers to the losses and inconvenience which the closing of foreign markets will entail? Then there are the public creditors—how does Mr. Butler propose to take care of them? They are paid gold interest, and the gold reaches the Government in the shape of duties upon importations. "Stop the importations" and how will the Treasury get its gold? and without gold, how will the Treasury keep faith with the national creditor? Still again, how does Mr. Butler propose to reconcile Mr. Boutwell to the collapse of his policy.

These are a few of the many inquiries which Mr. Butler's theory suggested. We trust that they are not wholly unworthy of his attention. His willingness to undertake another war is heroic. The philosophy of his method of coercing Britain is profound. But there are practical difficulties in the way which seem to need a little explanation.—N. Y. Times.

LAMARTINE'S EXTRAVAGANCE.—Lamartine's extravagance, even under the most desperate pressure of poverty, is well known. The story is told, in private circles in Paris, of an enthusiastic admirer of the poet, who severely stinted himself to offer a large subscription for the repurchase of the Lamartine estates. On the day on which he had paid the money, he happened to ask, at a well known fishmonger's, the price of a turbot. "Forty francs," replied the Parisian Charles. "Ah, that is much too dear for me," said the gentleman, and was passing on his way, when a distinguished looking personage passed for a moment before the shop, and, without questioning the price, ordered the fish to be sent to his house. "Who may that be?" asked the first customer. "Do you not know?" said the fishmonger; "that is M. de Lamartine." It may be surmised that the future subscriptions of the gentleman were few.

The sugar cane crop in Louisiana is in a most promising condition. The area planted is much larger than last season, and in fact has only been limited by the difficulty of obtaining labor. The difficulty is becoming a serious and alarming one. Encouraged by the high price of their staples, especially of sugar, planters would be emboldened to attempt a culture equal to that of the ante bellum times, if they could command the requisite labor. The natural resources of Louisiana are equal to the product of a sugar crop sufficient to supply the whole demand of the United States.

USE OF COFFEE.—In proportion to its population, in 1860—as near as the estimate could be made—New Orleans used three times and San Francisco twice as much coffee as New York City, while statistics indicate that the latter city was given a ratio demand for coffee of ten per cent. over the amount consumed in Boston. Dr Trall, in writing on this subject, predicts that the United States will, within ten years, show a decrease in the amount consumed, and a proportionate increase in the use of chocolate.

The statistics of divorce in Connecticut are startling. During last year the divorces numbered 476, or more than one tenth of the number of marriages. President Woolsey, of Yale College, has lately been calling attention to this subject in a series of able articles in the *New England*er, and the new Governor of Connecticut has recommended to the Legislature a modification of the existing divorce laws—the provisions of which are so lax that there is hardly any application for divorce which the judges could legally refuse.

Avoid quotations unless you are well studied in their import, and feel their pertinence. My friend ——, the other day, while looking at the skeleton of an ass which had been dug out of a sand pit, and admiring and wondering at the structure of that despised animal, made a very mal-adroit use of one. "Ah," said he, with the deepest humility, and a simplicity worthy of La Fontain, "we are fearfully and wonderfully made!"

"The password is Saxe—now don't forget it, Pat," said the Colonel, just before the battle of Fontenoy, at which Saxe was Marshal. "Sacks! faith and I will not," said Pat. "Wasn't my father a miller?" "Who goes there?" cried the sentinel, after the Irishman arrived at his post. Pat was as wise as an owl, and, in a sort of whispered howl, replied, "Bags, yer honor."

EX-REBEL OFFICERS IN ARREARS.—Auditor Clarke is pushing his correspondence with ex-rebel officers. He has just received a reply from Gen. Longstreet regarding an unpaid account. Longstreet asked to have copies sent to him of certain Quartermaster's vouchers which were charged to him, and the reasons for this transfer, and says the startling events of the last ten years have prevented him from keeping full files of his papers.

DESERVES TO DIE A BACHELOR.—An eastern writer notices the increase of unmarried ladies in his part of the country, under the head of "Alarming Increase of Women." That fellow need not be alarmed if he should receive an invitation to "pistol and coffee," from the shovalr Susan B. Anthony, or some of her staff, one of these fine mornings.

LUNCH.—The proprietors of the INTERNATIONAL SALOON, will hereafter serve LUNCH, morning and evening, as good as may be found in any Saloon on the Coast. Call and try it.

LIFE SAVING AND LOAN BANK.—The people of the city patronize the ORIENT DISPENSARY in order to save money and procure a loan of longer life by using our FRESH, PURE and RELIABLE remedies, which are daily dispensed and preferred by the MOST RESPECTABLE and TALENTED PHYSICIANS in this city. Everybody takes a pull in patronizing our Store and thereby obtain DIVIDENDS by purchasing not only their medicine but also their toilet articles and other wares, too numerous to mention. People say it is a pleasure to get sick and be cured at the Oregon Dispensary.

G. VENARD,

CHARTRES COFFEE!

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 18 1869

Promise and Performance.

Two years ago the Democratic party came into power in this city on a "retrenchment" platform. Mayor Holmes delivered a message in which it was charged that the affairs of the city had been managed with unwarrantable extravagance, and that reform on all points was an absolute necessity On the suggestions and promises made in this message, the Democrats carried the city. Let us all see how these promises have been carried out.

It was complained that among the "extravagant and unnecessary expenditures of money" was the amount paid to the City Surveyor and assistants; and a recommendation was made that the pay of this officer be so reduced as "not to exceed in the aggregate for the year the sum of $1,000." During the year 1868 the city paid the Surveyor and his assistants the sum of $3,768, or nearly four times the sum to which the retrenching Democracy promised it should be reduced, and much more than was ever paid for the work while the Republicans controlled the city.

Again, it was recommended, and the people were given to understand, that the salary of the City Attorney should be reduced. Has this been done? That officer has continued to draw the old salary with remarkable promptitude, and another Democratic promise remains unfulfilled.

Complaint was also made that the City Marshal and his deputies were paid too much money. The fact was cited that the two deputies were paid $100 a month each, making $2,400 a year; and it was urged that one of these deputies be discharged and the pay of the other reduced. Has this been done? Not that any one has heard of. The pay of deputy Marshals for the year 1868 was $2,543,—another instance where Democratic performance has come far short of Democratic promises.

The city printing was another matter alluded to in Mayor Holmes's message. It was thought that the amount which had been paid for this work was very extravagant, and it was recommended that the work be let thereafter to the lowest responsible bidder. But during the last two years the printing has cost about three times as much as ever before; so that the difference against the city through the operation of Democratic "economy" on this one point alone is about $1,000 a year.

Two years ago we were promised great reduction in the cost of water and gas for supplying the city. But the water supply still costs as much as it did in the days of "Radical extravagance," and the cost of lamps has increased from $3,000 for 1866 to $4,262 for 1868. We were told also that there was to be a general reduction of all salaries. Now several salaries have been increased, but what one has been diminished? Democrats are fine fellows to promise, but rather slow to perform. The facts we have cited show how their pledges are kept. They came into power by making a great noise about retrenchment, and have "retrenched" by increasing the expenses of this city in almost every particular. They are not running on the "economy" dodge this year.

San Francisco as a Commercial City.

There are many journals in California which do not hesitate to talk plainly about the lack of enterprise in San Francisco, and to predict that unless the merchants and capitalists of that city wake up and make use of the advantages offered them, they will fall far in the rear of the progressive enterprise of the times. The commercial reporter of the Sacramento Union writes from San Francisco that "the course of current trade is setting steadily against this city, causing considerable uneasiness to those merchants who possess judgment sufficient to recognize the fact of the existence of the new order of things inaugurated since the completion of the Pacific Railroad. The peculiarly isolated geographical position of San Francisco, and the equally peculiar system of business to which this position gave rise, seemed to have dwarfed the ideas of the majority of her merchants to such an extent that they really imagine San Francisco controls the trade of this coast if not of the Union!! Hugging this fatal delusion, they continue to conduct their business on precisely the save system as was excusable twenty years ago, when San Francisco was the most inaccessible and least frequented port on the American continent. They appear to forget that, with the exception of Liverpool, there is no port in the world at the present day in which so many of the largest ships of all nations are to be found, or where more important lines of foreign-going steamers connect than in San Francisco, or that this great center of the Asiatic trade is now within a week's easy ride by rail with the most energetic communities in the enterprising Yankee nation. The effect of this delusion will be ruinous if not watched. In place of San Francisco controlling the trade of the inland empire west of the Rocky Mountains, she is fast losing the control of the trade at her very doors. The 'drummers' of the merchants of Chicago, St. Louis and New York are swarming in this city, and may be met in every interior town in this State, Nevada, Utah and Montana. Unless San Francisco merchants shake off their lethergy, cast aside local prejudices and prepare to meet their competitors on equal terms, they will as certainly go to the wall' as sunshine follows the storm. It would be just as reasonable for France, in the event of a war with Prussia, to equip her soldiers with the old flint muskets of the past generation, while her competitor is armed with Needle, Chassepot and Henry Rifles, as it is for the merchants of San Francisco attempting to compete with those of Chicago in any open market, while the capital of the latter costs only six per cent. and ours is not to be had at less than eighteen and twenty-four per cent. Here is the key to the stragetical position, and the sooner we recognize it the better. We must have cheaper money, and more of it, or lose our trade There is no evading this issue. It is a dangerous delusion to think that because we are nearer to the State of Nevada, or to Sacramento, than our competitors, the people there will pay us more for goods than others offer to sell them for. Can we hope to undersell our competitors while the difference in the rent of their capital and ours is full ten per cent. per annum in their favor? Add to this the fact that it costs more in gold to transport goods 600 miles on this side of the continent than it does to transport them 1,000 miles on the other side in paper. Is there any man pretending to be a merchant so dull of apprehension as to be unable to perceive that the ruinous rate of interest on money and excessive costs of transportation place California bound hand and foot at the mercy of the Eastern capitalists and traders?"

GOOD DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT.—Murders are a daily crop. Dear friends, well in the morning, go out to business, and are brought home mutilated corpses. Old men go out to sweep the sidewalk, and be cut to pieces with knives. Gentle men sitting quietly in their own rooms, awaiting company, are seized, bound and gagged; robbed, and threatened with a bullet if they resist. Robberies are committed in the public streets, as a sort of make up farce to the heavy tragedy of the murders. Slungshots, the deadliest of murder weapons, are used with deadly frequency and freedom. * * * Vigilance committees are being formed in town and country, and it is this alarming riot of crime that has driven good citizens to this resort of desperation We do not understand that in any case it has been proposed to resort to the San Francisco Vigilance Committee's extremities, but it will not astonish us if a number of burglars are shot within the next fortnight.—New York Sun.

The above fairly illustrates the law and order prevailing in a city that boasts of its "conservatism;" a city which delights in being represented in Congress by felons, gamblers, lottery peliers and prize fighters—a city that could give a buy mour sixty thousand majority for the Presidency, by way of administering a solemn rebuke to the wicked Republicans everywhere else (!)—this New York, the great conservative stronghold, is now emulating the example of Texas, Mississippi, Georgia and Arkansas

NIGHT AIR.—An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night but night air? The choice is from pure night air from without and foul night air from within. Most people prefer the latter An unaccountable choice. What will they say if it is proven to be true that fully one half of the disease we suffer from is occasioned by people sleeping with their windows shut? An open window most nights in the year can never hurt any one This is not to say that light is not necessary for recovery. In great cities, night air is often the best and purest air to be had in the 24 hours I could better understand shutting the windows in town during the day than during the night, for the sake of the sick. The absence of smoke, the quiet, all tend to make the night the best time for airing the patient.

One of our highest medical authorities on consumption and climate has told me that the air of London is never so good as after ten o'clock at night.

Always air your room, then, from the outside air, if possible. Windows are made to open, doors are made to shut—a truth which seems exceedingly difficult of apprehension. Every room must be aired from without—every passage from within. But the fewer passages there are in a hospital, the better.—Florence Nightingale.

In General.

The vote of Clarke county, W. T., stands as follows Garfielde, 371; Moore, 287. The vote in the last election stood Hawkins, 312 Clark, 279 Increase of the vote of the county in two years, 40. Republican gain, 24

There is a single field of wheat in San Joaquin valley (Cal.) fifteen miles in length by ten in width, comprising 96,000 acres. The average yield is estimated at twenty bushels to the acre, which would make the product of this one field 1,920,000

Of the twenty-five candidates nominated in Pittsburg by the Republicans for Legislative and county offices, all but three are volunteer soldiers who fought honorably through the war. The Republican party is not ungrateful to the men who fought for the Union

Montana Territory already sensibly feels the influence of the Pacific Railroad Responsible parties offer to lay down goods in Helena from Chicago or St Louis for eight cents per pound in currency Freights from the railroad to Helena are four cents per pound.

The Herald is endeavoring to win the city election by asking people the alarming question whether they are not afraid of the terrible Chinese It is clear that the Herald expects every man who doubts his ability to keep ahead of the Chinaman, to vote with the Democracy. There may be some who have reason to be afraid.

Sprague, worth twenty millions, is running about the country informing the people that "the division of property is unequal" The Sacramento Union asks Are we to infer from the prominence he gives to that fact, which is tolerably well known, that he believes property ought to be equally divided? If so, let him set the example

Here is a question for every farmer in Oregon. Did you ever know a time when a good horse would not sell at a high price? When wheat, beef, pork, mutton, or wool, would hardly sell for enough to pay the cost of production, even then good horses sold readily, at a paying price, and the reason why they command a high price is because they are scarce.

In Stevens county, W. T., 112 votes were thrown in the recent election. Of these Garfielde received 55 and Moore 57. The Democratic loss in the county as compared with the last election is 53. The Republican candidate for Representative in Stevens county will contest the election with his competitor on the ground of fraud. The apparent majority against him is only five votes.

D. Jacobi, who is now the Democratic candidate for City Marshal, is the same man who, when Marshal last year, appointed all the scalawags in the city as a special police on election day. This police interfered with the rights of quiet citizens at the election, and instead of preserving the peace raised a series of rows that disgraced the city. The people of Portland are now to say whether they want Jacobi for Marshal again, or not.

The prospects of the Southern Pacific railroad are good. One hundred and fifty miles of the Memphis and El Paso road, connecting Richmond with San Francisco, will be completed in Texas this summer. The iron has already been purchased and will be on the ground in less than a month. Fremont has gone to Europe to raise funds for the completion of the road, and add another grand chain with which to link the East with the West.

The Jacksonville Sentinel presents the following picture: The Oregon Herald appealed on Sunday to the Democracy of Washington Territory to get up very early in the morning, and promised them that the setting sun would go down on a gloriously won Democratic field. Well, sorrowful to relate, the setting sun left Moore "setting" on his "carpet bag," in a very disconsolate mood, and the promised field turn out to be nothing but a valley of dry bones. Whither, oh, whither are drifting!

In nominating candidates for the city offices the Democracy have adopted the very policy which the Herald has for several days been vigorously protesting against. They have taken as candidates for the principal offices men whose recent connection with the Republican party is well known. Their candidate for Mayor was a zealous Union Leaguer; their candidate for Recorder was a violent war man and an ardent Abolitionist, and has seen only two years service in the Democratic party; their candidate for Marshal was a howling Radical during the war times and only went to the Democracy when he thought there was a chance to get office, and one of their candidates for the Council voted the straight Republican ticket from 1860 up to last year. If these candidates are defeated next Monday, the "organ" will doubtless go back on them and again condemn the policy of "truckling for sore-head votes."

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 16 In the House of Lords to night great numbers of petitions against the passage of the Irish Church bill were presented.

Lord Cairns gave notice of a question to ascertain if the Government intended to endorse the opinions contained in Mr Bright's letter to the Birmingham meeting The debate was then resumed

Lord Grey said he felt all the circumstance under which the bill was sent to this House, but urged Earl Harrowsby to reconsider his motion for a postponement In view of the consequences which might result should it be carried, and the bill passed, it might be materially amended. The House of Lords now had, but might not hereafter have the power to remould the measure The reaction in the late election was emphatically in favor of the bill. It would be imprudent for the Lords to oppose it If they were successful for a moment they would soon have it returned, and perhaps in a more objectionable form. He urged the consideration of the amendment in a fair and conciliatory spirit He exhorted the House to accept the measure with dignity, and not incur the danger of the people by a collision with the House of Commons, which represented the deliberate opinions of the nation

The Archbishop of Dublin complained of the hard, ungenerous and illiberal manner in which the Church was treated, and denounced the bill He thought if it was necessary it might have been less severe.

The Bishop of St. Davids said that the superior sanctity of property was not to be considered, but the best means to apply in view of the public need. He disapproved of excess, even of demonstration, of Protestantism. He valued its ascendancy not as it was political and religious, but as it was moral He considered the Irish Church an anomaly. It had failed to fulfill its mission and had promoted discord. He urged the passage of the bill to the second reading, and afterwards the introduction of amendments.

The Duke of Richmond explained that though he felt the injustice of the bill, after great hesitation he had resolved to act in opposition to his party He was sensible of the unpopularity of popular agitation and was convinced that the constitutional course was to oppose the bill after amending the objectionable clauses, and leave the responsibility of accepting the amendment or the withdrawal of the bill, on the Government

The Bishop of Peterboro opposed the bill He appealed to the House to act firmly, impartially, and not humiliate themselves by abdicating abjectly their constitutional position and lessen the nation to spare them because they are utterly contemptible and useless.

Speeches were also made against the bill by Lords Chelmsford and Chancerty, and in favor of it by Lords Penscongre

The debate at one o'clock was again adjourned without action

THE COMPETITION.—Yesterday a well contested trial came off between the two latest improvements of labor saving washing processes, Kane's Condensed Soap and the Automatic Clothes Boiler. It was adjudged that the Condensed Soap did its work quicker, better and with less labor than clothes washed by the Boiler By the Condensed Soap process no rubbing on a wash board or on the hands is necessary to take dirt from clothes, as was satisfactorily demonstrated yesterday and the day before Mr. Kane has a good Soap, and while we hope that he may realize handsomely upon it, we can truly say that his patrons will get the worth of their money.—American Exponent, June 12, 1869.

THE DAY fixed to commence work on the East Side Railroad is July 1st. By that time the Company will have sufficient Railroad Iron on the way or in Portland to complete twenty miles of road.
